Find your way onboard

Legend of the Seas features 20 decks and eight distinct neighborhoods, with seven pools, 10 whirlpools, and 28 dining options. Thrill Island offers waterslides, a surf simulator, and adventure attractions, while Chill Island provides resort-style pools and lounging areas. The Hideaway is an adults-only retreat with an infinity pool and ocean views, and Surfside is designed for families with young children, featuring splash areas, play spaces, and convenient dining.

AquaDome combines panoramic views, dining, and live diving and aerial performances. Central Park offers an open-air garden setting with restaurants and live music, while the Royal Promenade serves as the ship's central gathering place for shopping, dining, bars, and entertainment. The Suite Neighborhood provides exclusive dining and relaxation spaces for eligible suite guests. Together, these areas offer a mix of recreation, entertainment, family activities, and quieter places to unwind.

Travel documents | U.S. citizens

For U.S. citizens traveling as visitors. This is destination and transport guidance, not an individual document check.

• Passport book: the U.S. Department of State strongly recommends carrying a passport book on cruises. A passport card cannot be used for an international flight home.

• Curacao: a U.S. passport valid for the duration of your stay

• DominicanRepublic: Disembarked cruise ship passengers without a passport valid for 6 months must pay a daily migration escort service fee of approximately $125 USD. This is subject to change.

• DominicanRepublic: You must get an entry or exit stamp in your passport from Dominican border authorities. Failure to do so may lead to detention, fines, deportation, and/or a 10-year ban from returning to the Dominican Republic.

• DominicanRepublic: There are military-run checkpoints in the Dominican Republic near the border. You must show your passport upon request.

Requirements can change. Check the current official sources and your carrier’s instructions before departure; contact us if your citizenship, residency or travel circumstances differ.

What Kip can do in chat

Meet Kip, your travel sidekick. In your connected trip chat, mention Kip and ask about your saved itinerary, sailing route, flights, hotels or transfers. Try "Kip, what is on our itinerary tomorrow?"

Ask her about ship amenities, dining, packing and cruise-line policies, or request a destination weather forecast when your dates are within the available forecast window. For a flight-status check, give her the flight number and departure date; checks are on demand, rather than continuous monitoring.

Need local basics? Ask about currency, languages, calling codes or which side of the road people drive on. She is also up for a little vacation banter.

Need a person? Ask Kip to connect you with your travel advisor. Booking changes still need advisor review. Chat features depend on your trip being connected and the relevant services being available; follow your carrier for final travel updates.
